Season's greetings to all of you! A busy holiday season is here, but we hope one of the items on your list of things to do will be to attend the next monthly luncheon meeting of the Friends on Friday, December 12th. During this meeting you will be traveling to the "heights of Mount Pilatus" and other wonderful sights as the Darr Honors Program Director Alex Pinnon and students present a program about their recent Honors Abroad trip to Germany, Italy, Austria and Switzerland. Traveling abroad has a great impact on the whole educational experience.

The January Friends' meeting on Friday, January 9th is also one you won't want to miss! Dr. John Hoover, Executive Director of the Mercantile Library Association at the University of St. Louis, will speak on "The Permanence of Fine Printing in a Digital Age." This is a talk related to the exhibit, "The Art of the Printed Book through the Centuries" that was previously on display at the Garnett Library.
