1. COMMUNITY COMMITMENTS

1.1 COMMUNITY BUILDING

The University strives to provide an atmosphere for students to learn and pursue their academic and personal goals. In addition, the Residence Life staff is committed to creating a community where residents feel connected, develop new relationships, and are actively engaged in campus happenings. Furthermore, we encourage members to share in the creation of a safe and peaceful environment where all residents and property are respected.

1.2 VALUING DIVERSITY

Missouri State University-West Plains is a community of people with respect for diversity. The University emphasizes the dignity and equality common to all persons and adheres to a strict non-discrimination policy regarding the treatment of individual faculty, staff, and students. In accordance with federal law and applicable Missouri statutes, the University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin (including ancestry, or any other subcategory of national origin recognized by applicable law), religion, sex (including marital status, family status, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, or any other subcategory of sex recognized by applicable law), age, disability, veteran status, genetic information or any other basis protected by applicable law in employment or in any program or activity offered or sponsored by the University. Sex discrimination encompasses sexual harassment, which includes sexual violence, and is strictly prohibited by Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972. Holding to the policy, the student leaders and Residence Life staff encourage staff and students to reach out to one another and develop positive relationships.

1.3 RESIDENCE LIFE STAFF

The housing staff is here to assist you in the development of your academic, personal, and social growth. Below is a list of staff positions who are dedicated to providing all residents with an educational, comfortable, and safe place to grow and learn together.

Director of Residence Life

The primary administrator of the Housing program who is responsible for all management functions necessary to provide students with a community in which they can live and learn comfortably and effectively. The Director of Residence Life is involved in policy development and implementation, and will manage low level judicial infractions. The Director of Residence Life is responsible for implementing and supporting programming in a diverse student population community.

The live-in administrator of the Housing program, providing oversight to the residence halls, thus maximizing availability to students. The Assistant Residence Life Manager is responsible for promoting an atmosphere conducive to academic and personal growth.

Resident Assistants (RAs)

Undergraduate students who have been selected because of their desire and ability to be of service to other students. RAs usually know the answers to your questions and/or can find you the right kind of assistance. Each floor or zone has at least one RA and they are there to help you achieve your personal growth and ultimately help your floor or zone build a sense of community. RAs will help organize and plan various recreational, social, and educational activities. RAs are members of the Missouri State University-West Plains staff and are expected to be treated and respected as such.

Maintenance Staff

The Maintenance Staff is responsible for cleaning all public areas of the residence hall including the hallways, laundry room, computer room, community room, elevator, and stairwells. Students are responsible for cleaning up after themselves in common areas and within their own rooms. Requests for maintenance should be given to an RA and if the RA is unavailable, residents should seek assistance from another Residence Life staff member.

1.4 INVOLVEMENT AND LEADERSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

At Missouri State University-West Plains, there are many opportunities for students to get involved inside and outside of the classroom. As a resident, there will be regularly scheduled social and educational programs specifically within the residence halls. Suggested topics for programs of interest are welcome. Residents are also strongly encouraged to get involved with other campus events such as Grizzly Athletics, University and Community Program events, Student Life activities, and many more!

1.5 COMMUNITY LIVING

Living with others in a community living environment is one of the most rewarding and challenging experiences students can have while attending college. However, living on-campus has been proven to increase student success as well as personal growth and development. Residents are expected to demonstrate civility and respect toward others, make mature decisions together, communicate effectively, compromise, and take responsibility for themselves and the consequences of their actions.

Complete a Roommate Agreement

Sharing a room with someone else requires trust, respect, communication, and a willingness to share and compromise with each other. Completing a roommate agreement can alleviate some concerns up front as well as provide each roommate with the opportunity to define their expectations of the roommate relationship and how to share their common space. Roommates should always keep in mind the “Golden Rule” and strive to treat others as they would like to be treated. If a problem arises, roommates should communicate their concerns in an assertive, but also considerate, way. If residents need further assistance, they should seek help from their RA. If the RA is not available, residents should seek assistance from another Residence Life staff member.

1.6 COMMUNITY STANDARDS

Students living within the residence hall have the opportunity to live in a community environment and are expected to accept the responsibility of respecting each other and the property within the residence hall. Below is a listing of basic policies that have been established to facilitate mutual respect and consideration for all residents.

Air Conditioners

Air conditioning and heating units are provided for the comfort of the residents. In order to maintain appropriate costs within the residence hall, students are kindly asked to turn off their air conditioners and heaters when the temperatures are between 55 to 75 degrees Fahrenheit. Additionally, air conditioning units can “freeze up” when left operational and windows are open. Do not turn the air conditioning units below 70 degrees, as this could cause water damage and leakage problems.

Balls

Due to the possibility of breakage and the potential for injury, ball playing is not permitted in the residence hall. Ball bouncing is also not allowed because of noise.

Common Area Damages

In the event there are damages to a common area, including furniture, fixtures, walls, elevators, doors, windows, and/or excessive cleaning charges, the Director of Residence Life reserves the right to charge all residents for reasonable damage if the responsible person(s) cannot be identified.

In addition, it is each resident's responsibility to communicate disapproval of guests and to convey continual problems to a Residence Life staff member if approval is not sought after and received each time by all parties involved. If permission is not received and a guest is invited to visit, all future guest privileges may be revoked.

In such cases, the University may impose a liquidated damage fee.

3.3 ROOM ASSIGNMENTS

Every effort is made to honor room, roommate, and suitemate requests; however, the University makes these assignments. Students may request to change assignments, but will need approval from the Director of Residence Life. 3.4 ROOM SELECTION PROCESS/HOUSING TERMINATION FORM

During the fall and spring semesters, students that intend on living in the residence halls the following semester or academic year, will take part in the housing reservation process. A Room Condition Report (RCR) showing the status for the room, bathroom, and contents is completed when you check into the residence hall. In the absence of written proof of damage, the room will be judged in excellent condition at the time the student moves in.

3.7 ROOM CARE & INSPECTION

Rooms and bathrooms are expected to be kept neat and orderly at all times. The University reserves the right to enter and inspect all rooms at any time. The purpose of these inspections is for preventive and corrective action. Students will be given at least a 24-hour notice prior to the inspection. If a room does not meet cleanliness standards, according to the Residence Life Staff, the student will be given 24 hours to correct the problem. If the problem is not corrected satisfactorily, a custodian may be asked to clean the room and the resident will be charged a fine on their student account. Rooms are also expected to be reasonably clean for break periods, and room furnishings are expected to remain in their assigned room. Health and Safety Inspections are done at least once a semester and specific times are established by the Residence Life staff.

3.7 ROOM CHANGES

Residents are encouraged to discuss room changes with their roommates first. If issues reach the point that other methods of resolving the conflict have not been successful, there may be an option to request a different room assignment. In this case, the student who is seeking the room change should contact their RA, who will mediate the dispute. If still unresolved, the RA will refer the student to the Residence Life Assistant Manager, and finally, Director of Residence Life. Room change requests will only be taken into consideration and reviewed after the first two weeks of the fall and spring semesters. Room change requests that are based on discriminatory reasons will not be granted.

Payments

Charges related to the Student Housing Contract will be reflected on the student's account with the University. Students who are eligible to use the My Payment Plan should refer to the Terms and Conditions found at <https://wp.missouristate.edu/BusinessOffice/EnrollmentAgreement.htm#Deferred>

3.9 CHECK-IN & CHECK-OUT PROCEDURES

Check-In

When students move into their rooms, they will be provided a Room Condition Report that includes a completed room inventory. This inventory serves as a record of the contents and conditions of the room, and serves as the basis for check-out and assessment of damages when a student moves out.

Check-Out

In order to properly move out of a room, the student must check out with their Resident Assistant. RAs will provide students with sign-up times for check-out the week before finals. These appointments are necessary for the convenience of students and allow RAs to plan in advance if a schedule conflict requires the assistance of another staff member in the check-out process. During check-out, the RA will inspect the room, check for supplied furniture, record any damages on the Room Condition Report (RCR), collect keys, laundry cards, and obtain the student's signature on the Room Condition Report, noting the date of check-out. Failure to do any of the above constitutes an improper check-out, resulting in forfeiture of the security deposit. If a student checks out of a room during a vacation period, the student must make arrangements with the Director of Residence Life to check out during normal office hours. The cost of any damages to the room/suite may be collected at the time of check-out, billed to the student, and/or deducted from any security deposit refund due to the student. When checking out of a residence hall, students should follow the following procedures:

1. Remove all personal items (i.e. personal furniture, microwaves, posters, tape, etc.). If these items are not removed properly, there will be a charge for removal of belongings by the university.
2. Sweep and mop floors.
3. Return room furniture to original configuration.
4. Clean the sink, closets, shelves, bathroom, etc.
5. Arrange time for the Residence Hall staff to check your room.
6. Complete Change of Address form and submit to a Residence Life staff member.
7. Complete exit survey.
8. Submit all keys to Residence Life Staff member who check you out and sign your RCR.
9. RCRs will be turned into the Office of Residence Life for review. Improper check out will result in a forfeiture of deposit. Residents must check out in accordance to the Terms and Conditions provided on the back of the Housing Contract. Special permission to check out at a later time must be requested by the resident and reviewed for approval by the Director of Residence Life.

3.10 RESIDENCE HALL CLOSING

The residence halls will be closed during the following University break periods:

- Thanksgiving Break
- Winter Break
- Spring Break

With the exception of approved athletes, residents will be required to check-out during these times. Requests for late check out can be submitted to the Director of Residence Life for further consideration. For more detailed information on specific check-in and check-out dates, please refer to the Important Dates section towards the end of this Guide.

4 SAFETY AND SECURITY

4.1 EMERGENCY PROCEDURES

Missouri State Alert

“Missouri State Alert” is the University’s mass notification system, which uses a variety of methods to contact staff, faculty, and students in the event of an emergency or school closing. The system allows you to receive urgent notification in a variety of ways – by text message, phone call, or email.

Fire Procedures

In the event of a fire or similar emergency, all occupants of the residence hall should:

- Evacuate immediately using marked exits; last persons out close all doors;
- Assemble outside to account for all personnel; and
- Await further building instructions from building coordinators and/or emergency management personnel.

Tornado Procedures

In the event of a tornado warning, all occupants of the residence hall should take shelter in any of the following locations:

Student Recreation Center/Community Shelter: Located at 323 West Trish Knight Street. Evacuate the building using marked exits.

Secondary Shelter: Community Room 107 on lower level or first floor hallway (Grizzly House) or study rooms (Grizzly Lofts).

Hostile Intruder Procedures

In the event of a hostile intruder or active shooter, immediate action may be required and knowing how to respond may be the difference between safety and harm. In extreme situations, many authorities recommend some variation of the following: “Run if you can. Hide if you can’t. Fight if you must.”

Inform others if possible, and always know that help is on the way. Do not resume normal activities until an “All Clear” signal is given.

Earthquake Procedures

In the event of an earthquake, drop, cover, and hold on! Move only a few steps to a nearby safe place (e.g., under a sturdy table or desk). Most injured persons in earthquakes move more than five feet during the shaking. It is very dangerous to try to leave a building during an earthquake because objects can fall on you. Many fatalities occur when people run outside of buildings, only to be injured by falling debris from collapsing walls. In U.S. buildings, you are safer to stay where you are. After the shaking has stopped, if you go outside, move quickly away from the building to prevent injury from falling debris.

Campus Assistance

Call 417-257-9078 for escort services between classrooms and parking lots, for assistance with vehicle trouble, or similar needs.

5 STUDENT CONDUCT

In the event of an inconsistency between this Guide and the Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities, the Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities shall control. A primary aim of the Residence Life program is to maintain an atmosphere that is conducive to the pursuit of academic goals and personal growth. In order to achieve this goal, it is important to remember that a large number of individuals live together in a residence hall. This situation requires students to accept the responsibility involved with living in a community environment and to make a special effort to be aware of how their actions affect their neighbors and roommates. To this end, policies and community standards for the residence halls have been developed to establish an environment in which a large number of students may live together with maximum freedom while recognizing the rights and safety of fellow residents. Students are encouraged to learn responsible decision making, develop an appreciation of community standards, respect individual rights and property, practice good citizenship, and understand the policies of the University within the context of a community living environment. The student conduct system is an active approach to problems that may arise in a residence hall living environment. The system allows for the growth and development of individual residents, making them accountable for their actions and the consequences of these actions and decisions. When a resident violates the basic standard of community living by endangering the safety of other residents or violating any of the policies outlined by the Office of Residence Life or the University, this behavior is addressed through the residence life and/or the University student conduct system.

Documentation of Violations – Residence Life staff, including student workers, RAs, Operations Assistant, Assistant Manager, Director, Coordinator of Student Life and Development, and other administrative staff are required to confront violations of residence hall policy. An Incident Report is written and filed with a residence life administrator. Residents cited in an Incident Report for an alleged violation of policy receive email communication informing them of the next step in the process to resolve the situation. Residents are asked to respond in a timely fashion to all communications involving student conduct concerns. Failure to do so can result in further conduct action

Adjudication of Alleged Policy Violations – Information about the conduct process, including student rights, responsibilities, due process, hearing procedures and sanctions, may be found at <https://wp.missouristate.edu/StudentServices/student-conduct.htm>. A printed copy of the Code can be obtained in the Office of Residence Life located at the Grizzly Lofts.

Residence Hall Code of Student Conduct

Policies and Regulations – Any residence hall student who is found to have violated the following community standards or University policies as outlined under Article IV of the University's Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities is subject to disciplinary sanctions, conditions, and/or restrictions. Residents should review the University Code found at the following link: <https://wp.missouristate.edu/StudentLife/code.htm>. A printed copy of the Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities can be obtained in the Office of Residence Life at the Grizzly Lofts. Students will be held responsible for their own behavior. For definitions and further explanation of University policy, see G1.31 Title IX Policy on Sexual Assault, Stalking and Other Forms of Sexual Misconduct in the University's online policy library;

In addition, other consequences may be enacted as needed, e.g., moving from one residence hall to another or a required change of academic schedule.
